PLEADS FOR BEAUTY IN NATURE AND IN ART

FARMS, HOMES, FACTORIES TO VIE WITH NATURE

CAPTAIN WILLIAM H. FAWCETT MAKES PLEA AT ROTARY CLUB

STATE SHOULD EXERT ITSELF TO FURNISH BEAUTY FOR OUTSIDE VISITOR

"The handiwork of man should vie with that of nature in making the lake region of Minnesota one of rare beauty, appealing to the outside visitor," is the thought advanced by Captain William H. Fawcett, of Breezy Point Lodge, who spoke at the Rotary club luncheon. The captain believes in what he preaches, for he has made Breezy Point one of the beautiful show places of Minnesota, a million dollar resort which has gained international fame.

"The people of the United States work," said the captain. "Most of us spend our lives in offices, factories or on farms. And for the most part our work places are ugly, dreary and uninteresting, while those of Europeans are charming. Most of our homes are likewise dreary and commonplace in appearance.

Right here permit me to raise a question. Why cannot we have artistic factories? Why cannot office buildings be as attractive as cathedrals? Why cannot farmhouses be as attractive as the cottages and lodges that dukes build for their respective tenants?

The answer is that we Americans and we Minnesotans do not care. At least we haven't cared enough until just recently. We have not yet got to the stage where beauty is sufficiently worth while to work for it. We are too busy making money and when we get it we spend a lot of it in bad taste. Or the city or county does it for you. For instance, down in Minneapolis we spend a lot of money for signs marking traffic fatalities. You can stand on almost any corner of the city now and be entranced by the artistry of a signpost reading, 'One Killed Here.'

We, of Minnesota, haven't had to exert ourselves much in the matter of furnishing beauty for the outside visitor. There is a billion dollars' worth of it in our lakes and forests. With little exertion on our part, tourists roll into the state every year, and drop from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 into our laps. When a man gets the Minnesota lakes habit he soon becomes a habitual offender.

As I have said before, nature has so richly endowed us with scenic attractions that there is left to us only the tasks of supplying good roads, plenty of fish, a high brand of hospitality and a little discretion and artistry in building of our resorts, hotels, homes, office buildings and municipalities.

Visiting motorists profess to be highly pleased with the road situation in the state. Many declare that Minnesota's reputation for good roads is proving second only to the lakes as the best advertisement and lure to the resort. Resort accommodations as far as they go, are excellent, but there is plenty of evidence of a great development yet to come into the summer resort situation. At present, there is apparently a great need for more resorts of a pretentious character, where golfing, dancing and other amusements on a big social scale may be enjoyed in addition to the sports furnished by the lakes and great out-of-doors.

Another development which shows very decidedly the big attraction which Minnesota possesses for vacationists is the purchase by outsiders of property in this state. No greater evidence can be given than this to prove that the charm of Minnesota is permanent, and not transitory, and for a single summer only. In several sections of the state residents of other states have formed summer colonies on land they have purchased so that they can be near their friends, and single purchases have been made by the hundreds. It is customary for these people, or at least a portion of their families, to come here for the entire summer. And many of these investments run into large figures, mounting as high as $100,000 and more.

These people sing the praises of our state more lustily than any Minnesotan, with but few exceptions. What is more, they spread their praise over a wide territory when they return to their homes in the fall. Those who have been conquered by the beauty, by the healthy atmosphere, the forests, the lakes, the streams, the fishing, hunting and camping which they have found here

"DREAM BABY" GIVEN PATERNITY BY THE COURTS

London, July 28.—Master Geoffrey, the celebrated "dream baby" regarding whose paternity there raged the hardest fought fight and perhaps the most unusual divorce case in the history of British courts, today was pronounced the legitimate son of the Hon. John Russell and thereby put in line to succeed his doubting father in the barony of Amphill.

Justice Swift in the divorce division of the law courts today granted Master Geoffrey's petition for a declaration of legitimacy and the strange details of the Russell divorce case again are in the public prints.

ONE OF TRIO OF BANK BANDITS CAPTURED TODAY

POSSE CAPTURES MAN IN THE VICINITY OF TOWN OF PERHAM

DEPUTIES FROM TWO STATES DRAW CORDON ABOUT OTHER TWO

Perham, Minn., July 28.—(UP)—One of the three young bandits who held up and robbed the State Bank of Davenport, N. D., of more than $2,000 yesterday was captured by a posse near here early today.

In the belief that the two other bandits had taken to the woods near where the automobile and the third bandit were found, deputies and volunteers from Minnesota and North Dakota towns surrounded it and were drawing a living circle tighter at noon today.

The sheriff's posse which had been hunting the bandits all night acted on information indicating the men had come this way and run upon their automobile ten miles north of here.

One of the trio inside. The young man surrendered without resistance, and told the officers that his two companions had been sleeping with him until a few minutes before the posse arrived, but had fled. The officers recovered $900 in loot on the bandit's person and was told the remainder had been divided between the other two.

Authorities are of the opinion that the gang that held up the Davenport bank was responsible for the robbery of the Mapleton (N. D.) State Bank which was looted of $500 ten days ago.

are many fold superior as advertisements to any formally organized and appointed publicity bureau.

So these songs of praise constitute an intangible but very important addition to that very concrete $50,000,000 which these vacationists leave with us. All signs indicate that in the very near future we may see our trainload of $50,000,000 become two hundred millions.

Without any doubt, Minnesota is by far the most popular summer resort state in the union. There is no reason why it should not be made the most charming. We cannot hope to maintain this leadership if our main streets are commonplace and our resorts second class. We must use our means to build good resorts and good homes and office buildings and to make every town and city and farm a thing of beauty and a joy forever.

In his introductory remarks, Captain Fawcett told of how fate had brought him to Big Pelican lake. Seven years ago he sailed via airplane from Robbinsdale to the lake region of the north and the aviator dropped him in a field south of the Gruenhagen farm. The captain told the flier he wanted to get close to the lakes and with another $20 fee in hand, the ship sailed on and landed in another clover patch just south of Big Pelican.

With the weather warming up, said the captain, it kept him busy with his resort and his publishing business, but he had found time, somehow, to respond to the Rotary invitation for a short talk.

Textile Strike of 11,000 Workers Now In Fair Way of Being Settled

INDUSTRIAL WARFARE WAS VERY BITTER

STRIKE AT PASSAIC, N. J., LAST-ED FULLY SIX MONTHS

SENATOR BORAH CREDITED WITH BREAKING THE DEAD-LOCK

Washington, July 28.—(UP)—One of the longest, bitterest industrial fights of recent years, the six months strike of 11,000 workers in the Passaic, N. J., textile mills, today was on its way to a settlement.

Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, is credited with breaking the deadlock, through promotion of conferences with American Federation of Labor officials and mill owner representatives to bring about a federation union directorate for the workers' organization to replace the present United Front Committee.

The United Front Committee, charged by some with being communistic, has promised Borah it will retire in favor of new representatives if a settlement can thus be promoted.

DAN MOODY LACKS 760 VOTES OF CLEAR MAJORITY

Dallas, Texas, July 28.—(UP)—Dan Moody, attorney general, today was still short 763 votes of having a majority in the Texas gubernatorial campaign.

The fact that Moody does not have a majority, however, will not necessitate a run off primary as the second higher contestant, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, has withdrawn from the race.

Figures announced by the election bureau this morning: Moody 383,520; Ferguson 283,367; Lynch Davidson 1,743.

The total gubernatorial vote thus far tabulated is 767,799. Elections officials believe the total vote will be about 780,000.

HEAVY INFLUX OF HARVEST LABOR NEAR CROOKSTON

REPORTED BY COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT G. U. KAPPEL

SAYS THERE ARE SIX MEN FOR EVERY JOB IN CROOKSTON AREA

Crookston, Minn., July 28.—(UP)—A heavy influx of harvest labor in this section of Minnesota was reported today by County Agent G. U. Kappel who announced there are six men for every job.

Harvesting will begin in the Red River Valley the latter part of this week and the prospect for employment has brought many men into the city ahead of time. The men are skipping South Dakota, where a small harvest this season has lessened the number of jobs, and are coming from Nebraska directly to Minnesota.

Kappel said that the laborers apparently want to "see America first," for those who desire steady employment of as much as a month or longer are few. Most of them desire to work a few days or a week.

This situation has resulted in a shortage of men for general farm work and an abundance of men for day labor.

Wages of $40 a month and $1 a day extra during harvest season are being turned down. Wages by the day average $2 this year which is lower than was paid in the vicinity of Crookston last year.

NO LOCAL DEMAND FOR FARM LABOR

Aberdeen, S. D., July 28.—With no local demand for farm labor, workers who stop in Aberdeen are continuing to North Dakota and Minnesota, where harvesting is starting. As high as fifty men apply at the federal employment office daily here despite warning at Yankton and Sioux City that there is no work in South Dakota.

DEMOCRATS TO USE PRIMARY PROBE IN CAMPAIGN

HOPE TO GAIN MATERIAL IN THE SENATORIAL INVESTIGATION IN ILLINOIS

FRANK L. SMITH'S ENEMIES TO FLAUNT HIS CAMPAIGN EXPENSES

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, July 28.—Democrats already are seizing upon developments in the senate primary committee's investigation of Illinois politics to strike at the republican majority in the senate.

A democratic senator informed the United Press today that if Frank L. Smith, republican, wins over George Brennan, democrat, in the November senatorial race, the fact that Smith spent $253,000 in his primary campaign will immediately be raised in the senate.

The amount spent by Smith's agencies is nearly $60,000 more than former Senator Truman H. Newberry spent in Michigan and Newberry's expenditures were condemned by vote of the senate, although he was awarded his seat.

Despite the fact that Smith's expenditures are but one third of those made in Pennsylvania by William S. Vare in obtaining the republican nomination in that state, democratic leaders are making no secret of their intention of raising a cry against Smith's use of money.

As the committee commenced the third day of its inquiry the known cost of the senatorial race was developed to $623,000, of which Smith spent $250,000; Senator William B. McKinley (Smith's opponent for the republican nomination) $350,000, and Brennan $20,000. These figures are expected to be enlarged by additional evidence. Taking duplicated figures, some estimates of expenditures run as high as $800,000, but this amount would include outlays for county tickets in Cook county and fails to eliminate twice given expenditures made by the different witnesses before the committee.

Followers of the primary fully expect that the total to be uncovered by the committee may reach $1,000,000 if amounts expended by county organizations are included, but these are only indirectly related to the senatorial campaign.

A new list of witnesses were subpoenaed this morning including Thomas H. Healey, West Side National Bank; Palmer Anderson, United States marshal, and John Bulman, publicity director for McKinley, who were closely affiliated with the republican ticket. Names of others subpoenaed will not be divulged until the subpoenas are served.

Henry Green, campaign manager for McKinley, who revealed that the senator donated $350,000 for his own campaign, is to resume the stand this morning.

The amount named by Green does not include any donations made to McKinley's campaign and comprises only the senator's actual expenditures.

Federal Building, Chicago, July 28.—Senator William B. McKinley, unsuccessful republican senatorial candidate, financed his $350,000 campaign himself, Henry L. Green, the senator's manager, told the senate primary investigating committee at the opening of the third day's session here today.

It was McKinley's policy not to receive contributions in the senatorial race, expenditures of which are known to have reached $625,000, Green said.

Green said he did not personally receive any contributions from any person other than McKinley.

"Of course contributions may have been made to other persons," the witness declared, "but I don't think more than $5,000 could be raised that way. I understood that Mrs. Medill McCormick, wife of the former senator, was to contribute some advertising to the foreign language newspapers. That would have cost about $8,000."

"Isn't it quite singular you received no contributions?" Chairman Reed asked.

GRADE CROSSING ACCIDENT CLAIMS 3, INJURES DRIVER

Parker, S. D., July 28.—(UP)—A grade crossing accident here yesterday took the lives of three youths and the driver who gave them a ride is in a hospital.

The dead are Frederick Kelly, John Ryburn and John Schultz, each 19 years old and all of Alexandria, who were killed when a Northwestern railroad freight train struck the automobile of J. B. Foster, a traveling salesman, between Monroe and Canistota.

Foster, who was not seriously hurt, said rain in the windshield of his automobile obscured the view and probably caused the accident.

CHARGED WITH BURNING VILLAGE FOR INSURANCE

DAVID B. CRAWFORD, MARINETTE, WIS., ON TRIAL IN MICHIGAN

VILLAGE OF CEDAR RIVER HAD NO INHABITANTS AT TIME OF FIRE

Menominee, Mich., July 28.—(UP)—The trial of David B. Crawford, Marinette, Wis., charged with burning the village of Cedar River, Mich., to collect insurance, continued at Menominee today.

Crawford, a lumberman, owned the village and some 30,000 acres of timberland surrounding it.

In his opening statement, prosecuting Attorney Doyle said the state would show that Crawford had increased his insurance on the village buildings and was seen in the town June 6, the day of the fire. Doyle also declared the state would disclose that the fire did not spread from building to building, but that in some instance fire broke out simultaneously in structures 800 feet apart.

Cedar River, a former lumber town, was practically devoid of inhabitants when razed by the fire.

GAS BOMB THROWN AT MELLETT HOME

Canton, O., July 28.—(UP)—A gas bomb was hurled at the home of Don R. Mellett, murdered publisher of the Canton Daily News, this afternoon from an automobile, which dashed by the house loaded with unidentified men.

Mrs. Mellett, widow of the slain reformer, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lloyd Mellett, who were sitting on the porch, were made ill by the fumes. Two children inside the house were overcome.

TWO ARRESTED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Herman, Minn., July 28.—(UP)—Earl Carlson, of Chokie, and Ralph Steinhagen, of Norcross, both less than 21 years of age, were arrested here for possession of intoxicating liquor. Steinhagen pleaded guilty to maintaining a nuisance and was fined $100 and costs. Carlson was bound over to district court on a transportation charge.

ed no contributions?" Chairman Reed asked.

"It was our policy, whether right or not."

Green said he had never given an interview to newspapermen that McKinley had spent a million or even half a million dollars.

The witness said John Wesley Hill of Lincoln, Ill., Memorial University, had been making world court speeches for McKinley during the campaign, but denied McKinley had made any large contribution to the institution.

"The only contributions I know of were made to that institution in 1923, and was for $5,000 when McKinley Utilities Company was sold and devoted to the institution."

"Did he receive any pay for his speeches?"

"Not that I know of; his expenses were paid by me, that is the hiring of halls for him and his traveling expenses. He said he was glad to make speeches for Senator McKinley."

UNKNOWN TOLL ALSO IN THE BAHAMA ISLANDS

HURRICANE AREA NOW CRAWLING NORTH-NORTHWESTWARD

TELEGRAPH, TELEPHONE SERVICE CRIPPLED, MUCH PROPERTY DAMAGED

Jacksonville, Fla., July 28.—(UP)—After causing damage of at least $1,500,000 to eastern Florida, wrecking of scores of small boats, disabling at least one ocean going freighter and taking an unknown toll in the Bahama Islands, the tropical hurricane which has flailed the south Atlantic since Sunday was creeping up on Jacksonville today.

While the hurricane area crawled north-northwestward at a snail's pace, winds within the area whipped and tore and slashed at a 70 to 100 mile rate, tearing down trees, crippling telegraph and telephone service, unroofing houses and battering dangerously such shipping as remains on the sea off the Florida coast.

Fate of the Italian steamer Ansaldo San Giorgio Secundo was still in doubt this morning. The freighter with a crew of 30 on board drifted rudderless before the storm all day yesterday, while two other ships stood by. Last night as the storm increased, the rescue ships lost sight of the disabled vessel, but whether it sank or was blown farther out to sea is not known. A coastguard cutter is hunting for it.

The Dutch steamer Wilhelm A. Roldemann is in distress near Jupiter Inlet, north of Palm Beach, according to radio reports.

The 60 foot motor boat Zuleta, Brunswick, Wa., carrying 25 excursionists, is missing.

A driving rain, accompanied by a blustering gale from the northeast has been sweeping this city since 9 A. M.

Passengers from the Seminole, which was forced to put back into Jacksonville because of the gale, were sent on to Miami by train and the Clyde line was booking passengers here today for a return trip to New York this afternoon, weather permitting.

The Standard Oil tanker Glenpool, en route to Baton Rouge, La., and the Morgan Line freighter Elestero, bound for Galveston, Texas, are in port here, having run for cover from the storm.

No word has been heard from the Gulf Refining tanker J. M. Guthrie, due here today.

Palm Beach and West Palm Beach where the storm did $1,000,000 damage yesterday, are the hardest hit of southern Florida cities over which the hurricane already has passed. Forty small yachts and house boats in Lake Worth between those two cities were sunk and a wooden bridge over the lake was washed away.

The weather bureau at Jacksonville at 10:30 A. M. today reported the center of the hurricane disturbance to be east of Jacksonville and travelling north-northeast, indicating the center of the storm area might not hit this city.

Washington, July 28.—The hurricane sweeping northward along the Florida coast was centered between Titusville and Jacksonville at 9 A. M. today, according to the weather bureau here.

Titusville is approximately half way between Palm Beach and Jacksonville. If the storm continues at its present speed it may not reach the latter city until tonight.

The hurricane has shown no signs of "blowing itself out," the weather bureau said and may be expected to continue slowly up the coast.

Savannah, Ga., July 28.—All summer residents on Tybee Island have been brought here for protection from the tropical hurricane, which wrought havoc on the Florida east coast and is expected to strike here today. Rain was falling here this morning and a rising wind was noted.

Soldiers at the state military camp at Tybee Island were being held in readiness for emergencies.

New York, July 28.—The local weather bureau today issued storm warnings for the Florida coast district.

Amsterdam, July 28.—(UP)—Dispatches received here today reported an earthquake in Padang, Dutch East India, Tuesday night. The islands suffered a severe earthquake about a month ago in which the loss of life and destruction of property was large.

HEAVY INFLUX OF HARVEST LABOR NEAR CROOKSTON

REPORTED BY COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT G. U. KAPPEL

SAYS THERE ARE SIX MEN FOR EVERY JOB IN CROOKSTON AREA

Crookston, Minn., July 28.—(UP)—A heavy influx of harvest labor in this section of Minnesota was reported today by County Agent G. U. Kappel who announced there are six men for every job.

Harvesting will begin in the Red River Valley the latter part of this week and the prospect for employment has brought many men into the city ahead of time. The men are skipping South Dakota, where a small harvest this season has lessened the number of jobs, and are coming from Nebraska directly to Minnesota.

Kappel said that the laborers apparently want to "see America first," for those who desire steady employment as much as a month or longer are few. Most of them desire to work a few days or a week.

This situation has resulted in a shortage of men for general farm work and an abundance of men for day labor.

Wages of $40 a month and $1 a day extra during harvest season are being turned down. Wages by the day average $2 this year which is lower than was paid in the vicinity of Crookston last year.

NO LOCAL DEMAND FOR FARM LABOR

Aberdeen, S. D., July 28.—With no local demand for farm labor, workers who stop in Aberdeen are continuing to North Dakota and Minnesota, where harvesting is starting. As high as fifty men apply at the federal employment office daily here despite warning at Yankton and Sioux City that there is no work in South Dakota.

Firemen in attendance from Evelev, Virginia, Chisholm, Grand Rapids, Ely, Marble, Nashauk and Keewatin attended the meeting here.

Faid and volunteer fire departments of northwestern Minnesota will be invited to join.

DEMOCRATS TO USE PRIMARY PROBE IN CAMPAIGN

HOPE TO GAIN MATERIAL IN THE SENATORIAL INVESTIGATION IN ILLINOIS

FRANK L. SMITH'S ENEMIES TO FLAUNT HIS CAMPAIGN EXPENSES

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, July 28.—Democrats already are seizing upon developments in the senate primary committee's investigation of Illinois politics to strike at the republican majority in the senate.

A democratic senator informed the United Press today that if Frank L. Smith, republican, wins over George Brennan, democrat, in the November senatorial race, the fact that Smith spent $253,000 in his primary campaign will immediately be raised in the senate.

The amount spent by Smith's agencies is nearly $60,000 more than former Senator Truman H. Newberry spent in Michigan and Newberry's expenditures were condemned by vote of the senate, although he was awarded his seat.

Despite the fact that Smith's expenditures are but one third of those made in Pennsylvania by William S. Vare in obtaining the republican nomination in that state, democratic leaders are making no secret of their intention of raising a cry against Smith's use of money.

As the committee commenced the third day of its inquiry the known cost of the senatorial race was developed to $623,000, of which Smith spent $250,000; Senator William B. McKinley (Smith's opponent for the republican nomination) $350,000, and Brennan $20,000. These figures are expected to be enlarged by additional evidence. Taking duplicated figures, some estimates of expenditures run as high as $800,000, but this amount would include outlays for county tickets in Cook county and fails to eliminate twice given expenditures made by the different witnesses before the committee.

Followers of the primary fully expect that the total to be uncovered by the committee may reach $1,000,000 if amounts expended by county organizations are included, but these are only indirectly related to the senatorial campaign.

A new list of witnesses were subpoenaed this morning including Thomas H. Healey, West Side National Bank; Palmer Anderson, United States marshal, and John Bulman, publicity director for McKinley, who were closely affiliated with the republican ticket. Names of others subpoenaed will not be divulged until the subpoenas are served.

Henry Green, campaign manager for McKinley, who revealed that the senator donated $350,000 for his own campaign, is to resume the stand this morning.

The amount named by Green does not include any donations made to McKinley's campaign and comprises only the senator's actual expenditures.

Federal Building, Chicago, July 28.—Senator William B. McKinley, unsuccessful republican senatorial candidate, financed his $350,000 campaign himself, Henry I. Green, the senator's manager, told the senate primary investigating committee at the opening of the third day's session here today.

It was McKinley's policy not to receive contributions from any person other than McKinley.

"Of course contributions may have been made to other persons," the witness declared, "but I don't think more than $5,000 could be raised that way. I understood that Mrs. Medill McCormick, wife of the former senator, was to contribute some advertising to the foreign language newspapers. That would have cost about $5,000."

GRADE CROSSING ACCIDENT CLAIMS 3, INJURES DRIVER

Parker, S. D., July 28.—(UP)—A grade crossing accident here yesterday took the lives of three youths and the driver who gave them a ride is in a hospital.

The dead are Frederick Kelly, John Ryburn and John Schultz, each 19 years old and all of Alexandria, who were killed when a Northwestern railroad freight train struck the automobile of J. B. Foster, a traveling salesman, between Monroe and Canistota.

Foster, who was not seriously hurt, said rain in the windshield of his automobile obscured the view and probably caused the accident.

CHARGED WITH BURNING VILLAGE FOR INSURANCE

DAVID B. CRAWFORD, MARINETTE, WIS., ON TRIAL IN MICHIGAN

VILLAGE OF CEDAR RIVER HAD NO INHABITANTS AT TIME OF FIRE

Menominee, Mich., July 28.—(UP)—The trial of David B. Crawford, Marinette, Wis., charged with burning the village of Cedar River, Mich., to collect insurance, continued at Menominee today.

Crawford, a lumberman, owned the village and some 30,000 acres of timberland surrounding it.

In his opening statement, Prosecuting Attorney Doyle said the state would show that Crawford had increased his insurance on the village buildings and was seen in the town June 6, the day of the fire. Doyle also declared the state would disclose that the fire did not spread from building to building, but that in some instance fire broke out simultaneously in structures 800 feet apart.

Cedar River, a former lumber town, was practically devoid of inhabitants when razed by the fire.

GAS BOMB THROWN AT MELLETTE HOME

Canton, O., July 28.—(UP)—A gas bomb was hurled at the home of Don R. Mellett, murdered publisher of the Canton Daily News, this afternoon from an automobile, which dashed by the house loaded with unidentified men.

Mrs. Mellett, widow of the slain reformer, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lloyd Mellett, who were sitting on the porch, were made ill by the fumes. Two children inside the house were overcome.

TWO ARRESTED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Herman, Minn., July 28.—(UP)—Earl Carlson, of Chokie, and Ralph Steinhagen, of Norcross, both less than 21 years of age, were arrested here for possession of intoxicating liquor. Steinhagen pleaded guilty to maintaining a nuisance and was fined $100 and costs. Carlson was bound over to district court on a transportation charge.

ed no contributions?" Chairman Reed asked.

"It was our policy, whether right or not."

Green said he had never given an interview to newspapermen that McKinley had spent a million or even half a million dollars.

The witness said John Wesley Hill of Lincoln, Ill., Memorial University, had been making world court speeches for McKinley during the campaign, but denied McKinley had made any large contribution to the institution.

"The only contributions I know of were made to that institution in 1923, and was for $5,000 when McKinley Utilities Company was sold and devoted to the institution."

"Did he receive any pay for his speeches?"

"Not that I know of; his expenses were paid by me, that is the hiring of halls for him and his traveling expenses. He said he was glad to make speeches for Senator McKinley."

UNKNOWN TOLL ALSO IN THE BAHAMA ISLANDS

HURRICANE AREA NOW CRAWLING NORTH-NORTHWEST-WARD

TELEGRAPH, TELEPHONE SERVICE CRIPPLED, MUCH PROPERTY DAMAGED

Jacksonville, Fla., July 28.—(UP)—After causing damage of at least $1,500,000 to eastern Florida, wrecking of scores of small boats, disabling at least one ocean going freighter and taking an unknown toll in the Bahama Islands, the tropical hurricane which has failed the south Atlantic since Sunday was creeping up on Jacksonville today.

While the hurricane area crawled north-northwestward at a snail's pace, winds within the area whipped and tore and slashed at a 70 to 100 mile rate, tearing down trees, crippling telegraph and telephone service, unroofing houses and battering dangerously such shipping as remains on the sea off the Florida coast.

Fate of the Italian steamer Ansaldo San Giorgio Secundo was still in doubt this morning. The freighter with a crew of 30 on board drifted rudderless before the storm all day yesterday, while two other ships stood by. Last night as the storm increased, the rescue ships lost sight of the disabled vessel, but whether it sank or was blown farther out to sea is not known. A coastguard cutter is hunting for it.

The Dutch steamer Wilhelm A. Roldemann is in distress near Jupiter Inlet, north of Palm Beach, according to radio reports.

The 60 foot motor boat Zuleta, Brunswick, Va., carrying 25 excursionists, is missing.

A driving rain, accompanied by a blustering gale from the northeast has been sweeping this city since 9 A. M.

Passengers from the Seminole, which was forced to put back into Jacksonville because of the gale, were sent on to Miami by train and the Clyde line was booking passengers here today for a return trip to New York this afternoon, weather permitting.

The Standard Oil tanker Glenpool, en route to Baton Rouge, La., and the Morgan Line freighter Elestero, bound for Galveston, Texas, are in port here, having run for cover from the storm.

No word has been heard from the Gulf Refining tanker J. M. Guthrie, due here today.

Palm Beach and West Palm Beach where the storm did $1,000,000 damage yesterday, are the hardest hit of southern Florida cities over which the hurricane already has passed. Forty small yachts and house boats in Lake Worth between those two cities were sunk and a wooden bridge over the lake was washed away.

The weather bureau at Jacksonville at 10:30 A. M. today reported the center of the hurricane disturbance to be east of Jacksonville and travelling north-northeast, indicating the center of the storm area might not hit this city.

Washington, July 28.—The hurricane sweeping northward along the Florida coast was centered between Titusville and Jacksonville at 9 A. M. today, according to the weather bureau here.

Titusville is approximately half way between Palm Beach and Jacksonville. If the storm continues at its present speed it may not reach the latter city until tonight.

The hurricane has shown no signs of "blowing itself out," the weather bureau said and may be expected to continue slowly up the coast.

Savannah, Ga., July 28.—All summer residents on Tybee Island have been brought here for protection from the tropical hurricane, which wrought havoc on the Florida east coast and is expected to strike here today. Rain was falling here this morning and a rising wind was noted.

Soldiers at the state military camp at Tybee Island were being held in readiness for emergencies.

New York, July 28.—The local weather bureau today issued storm warnings for the Florida coast district.

SECOND ALFALFA CROP PROMISES GOOD YIELD

First Cutting Yielded Only One Ton to Acre; Second Crop to Yield Three Tons

CUT WITHIN 10 DAYS

Crow Wing County Has 5,000 Acres Alfalfa With Year Output of 35,000 Tons

Experiments at the Crow Wing county experimental station of the value of marl as a fertilizer to be used commercially through development of marl deposits in the district reveal that the alfalfa cropage has been greatly increased with the use of marl, it was stated today by E. G. Roth, county agent who in connection with the State Soil Department and Fred Johnson caretaker, have charge of the station at Crow Wing.

The first crop of alfalfa this year was light, the average yield being one ton to an acre. The new crop which will be cut within ten days will yield from two to three tons an acre, Mr. Roth stated.

At the present time there are over 5,000 acres of alfalfa planted in the county. Five years ago there was less than 40 acres. The total average yield in the county per season for alfalfa is approximately 35,000 tons.

Mr. Roth refers to alfalfa as "the king of all hay crops," and claims that well cured alfalfa has the same food value as bran.

Dr. F. J. Alway, chief of the Soils Division of the University of Minnesota offers to any farmer along the new pavement from Brainerd to Fort Ripley free use of a press drill for the seeding of alfalfa and will also furnish a man to operate the drill, if but the farmer will get the ground ready for seeding and provide the feed. The department wishes to open demonstration fields of alfalfa along State Highway No. 27.

The Crow Wing county experimental station is composed of 50 acres. Experiments of 500 different kinds are being carried on. There are 480 alfalfa plots under different treatments.

DETROIT'S CAUTION CAR

DETROIT street traffic has a novelty, a "Caution Car" operated by the police department and carrying a loud speaker which utters wise observations on proper driving of cars. The loud speaker, as its name implies, carries a stentorian voice which even penetrates the inner consciousness of the callous driver of a five-ton truck and he is actually forced to hear what the officer says and has no chance to talk back.

The officer on duty speaks into a hand microphone, and though he talks in the natural tone of voice, his remarks issue from the three horns in volume sufficient to "tell the world." The main purpose of the "Caution Car" is to instill the principles of caution in both drivers and pedestrians. The jay-walker as well as the careless driver is cautioned against dangerous habits.

Here is a sample of a day's work on the part of the "Caution Car": Hours in service, 5½; safety talks delivered, 12; warnings for defective headlights, 40; speeders, 6; dirty or defaced license plates, 10; blocking crosswalks, 15; "double parking", 200.

The safety talks are delivered at important intersections, and thousands of pedestrians are reached every day. The lessons are delivered courteously and in good spirit. A large part of the effectiveness of the car in dealing with individual violators is due to the glare of publicity in which they find themselves. It's bad enough, privately, to have a policeman tell you "what's what," but imagine a loud speaker doing it and the whole block being "wised" to the lecture. No arrests are made.

Some of the safety homilies delivered by Sergeant Rounds through the loud-speakers are the kind that might make good safety slogans anywhere. Here are a few of them:

"Hello, pedestrian—walk with the green lights, always. The driver waits for you, now you wait for him. Courtesy between drivers and pedestrians will save a lot of lives."

"Watch that speedometer, son. It's the trigger of the deadliest gun ever invented."

"Whoa, there, speed kings! Your brothers are driving wheelbarrows at the House of Correction."

"Think, driver, think! The right of way doesn't give you the right to maim."

FOOLISH HUNTERS

RESIDENTS of the township of Ramsey in Anoka county, north of Anoka village, object to the treatment received at the hands of non-resident so-called "hunters." A recital of their complaints addressed to J. F. Gould, of the state game and fish commission and published in the Anoka Herald, reads like the record of a war of some kind.

These "sportsmen" who did the damage enumerated must be the same kind who have been shooting our gulls in Gull lake, stripping bark off birch trees, setting illegal fires, and doing other damage.

Here are some of the complaints registered by Ramsey township farmers:

Illegal shooting of pheasants; stray shot plowing through Judge Cutter's hat as he was fishing in a boat on Rum river; mare shot and killed in a pasture; cow and three other animals shot in a pasture; trespassing on farm property; leaving gates open and letting cattle run away; tame ducks killed; fences cut and used as firewood; heifer shot and killed; chickens shot; fine colt shot; horse shot; "trappers" undermined building foundations to seek for skunks; large colony of fox squirrels, protected by farmers, shot out and reduced to three; turkeys shot.

In short, as we read the complaint, the Ramsey township area seems to be overrun with "wild" hunters, and what "wild" game as well as domestic animals and birds roam about, seem facing utter extinction.

Commissioner Gould has taken cognizance of the complaint of these Anoka county citizens and has ordered a hearing to be held at Anoka village on the afternoon of August 11th in accordance with the provisions of Section 108 of the game and fish laws to determine whether or not it is desirable in the public interest and for the purpose of conserving game birds a permanent closed season for the taking of game birds shall be put into effect in the township of Ramsey, Anoka county.

An outsider would also desire a "closed season" on cows, heifers, horses, tame ducks, turkeys, chickens, etc.

GENE TUNNEY is no spectacular fighter. We saw him pound his trip hammer blows to the body of Madden when they fought for Captain Billy Fawcett. After a siege of body punches, Tunney rapped one more to the body and one to Madden's chin and that gentleman turned on his heel like a dying rooster and kissed the canvas. It is said that Tunney finished him off so quickly because he had to catch a train for New York.

SOME of the doctors are dispensing "violet rays." This is just another name for artificial sunlight, and you can burn the same effect into the back of your neck and the rest of your body by going bathing and sitting out on the beach, exposed to all of Old Sol's fiery vigor. That's why children thrive so and plants too, when you let them have sunshine.

A BROOKLYN traffic court judge has ruled that a hearse is a "pleasure" vehicle. It's no joke to be dead and it is passe to joke about the dead. Whatever "pleasure" is gained in operating the hearse must all go to the driver. The passenger in the back seat can give no directions.

OUR loyal friend Joe Bush helped the Pirates strengthen their hold on first place in the National league. Joe is pitching good, and hot weather always did take the kinks out of his arm. He will be going good in the heat when other pitchers will be seeking the shade.

MISS OLGA WEICHERT of Perham is like all the telephone girls, when put to a test. She stayed at her switchboard, in spite of flames and smoke, summoning the firemen. By her act four buildings to the west of the $100,000 fire loss were saved.

THE Little Falls Daily Transcript is no large city paper, by any means, but just the same it's printing United Press and Associated Press dispatches this week.

"SOME WILD NOTIONS I HAVE KNOWN"

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.
Pastor Simpson M. E. Church, Minneapolis

"WHEN IN ROME, DO AS THE ROMANS DO"

No law is so deadly as the law of fatal average. He who is content to be "as good as the rest" has ceased to grow. He has doomed himself to mediocrity.

Progress and redemption depend upon those who are better than the rest. Conformity is the easiest thing in the world. It requires nothing but the imitative instinct. Originality is the most difficult and dangerous. He who dares to be different and original is certain to be a Moses leading society out of wilderness or a martyr to his originality.

There is a desperate need in Rome for someone to assume the leadership of the Romans. Life's important prizes and places are reserved for those who are able to live among the Romans like Sons of God.

Cervantes lived in a day when Spanish literature was cursed by a maudlin and sentimental chivalry. For the period of a few years he wrote novels and plays according to the contemptible and silly standards of his time. Then his soul revolted and he wrote "Don Quixote," a book that transformed all the established literary formulae of the period and placed the name of its author among the first ten authors of all history.

Richard Wagner could have been a popular composer and received some important commissions from royalty in his generation if he had been willing to be bound by the operatic standards then current. Instead he preferred to blaze new trails, suffer calumny and humiliation and almost defeat, but in the end he became the father of the modern opera.

DETROIT'S CAUTION CAR

DETROIT street traffic has a novelty, a "Caution Car" operated by the police department and carrying a loud speaker which utters wise observations on proper driving of cars. The loud speaker, as its name implies, carries a stentorian voice which even penetrates the inner consciousness of the callous driver of a five-ton truck and he is actually forced to hear what the officer says and has no chance to talk back.

The officer on duty speaks into a hand microphone, and though he talks in the natural tone of voice, his remarks issue from the three horns in volume sufficient to "tell the world." The main purpose of the "Caution Car" is to instill the principles of caution in both drivers and pedestrians. The jay-walker as well as the careless driver is cautioned against dangerous habits.

Here is a sample of a day's work on the part of the "Caution Car": Hours in service, 5½; safety talks delivered, 12; warnings for defective headlights, 40; speeders, 6; dirty or defaced license plates, 10; blocking crosswalks, 15; "double parking", 200.

The safety talks are delivered at important intersections, and thousands of pedestrians are reached every day. The lessons are delivered courteously and in good spirit. A large part of the effectiveness of the car in dealing with individual violators is due to the glare of publicity in which they find themselves. It's bad enough, privately, to have a policeman tell you "what's what," but imagine a loud speaker doing it and the whole block being "wised" to the lecture. No arrests are made.

Some of the safety homilies delivered by Sergeant Rounds through the loud-speakers are the kind that might make good safety slogans anywhere. Here are a few of them:

"Hello, pedestrian—walk with the green lights, always. The driver waits for you, now you wait for him. Courtesy between drivers and pedestrians will save a lot of lives."

"Watch that speedometer, son. It's the trigger of the deadliest gun ever invented."

"Whoa, there, speed kings! Your brothers are driving wheelbarrows at the House of Correction."

"Think, driver, think! The right of way doesn't give you the right to maim."

FOOLISH HUNTERS

RESIDENTS of the township of Ramsey in Anoka county, north of Anoka village, object to the treatment received at the hands of non-resident so-called "hunters." A recital of their complaints addressed to J. F. Gould, of the state game and fish commission and published in the Anoka Herald, reads like the record of a war of some kind.

These "sportsmen" who did the damage enumerated must be the same kind who have been shooting our gulls in Gull lake, stripping bark off birch trees, setting illegal fires, and doing other damage.

Here are some of the complaints registered by Ramsey township farmers:

Illegal shooting of pheasants; stray shot plowing through Judge Cutter's hat as he was fishing in a boat on Rum river; mare shot and killed in a pasture; cow and three other animals shot in a pasture; trespassing on farm property; leaving gates open and letting cattle run away; tame ducks killed; fences cut and used as firewood; heifer shot and killed; chickens shot; fine colt shot; horse shot; "trappers" undermined building foundations to seek for skunks; large colony of fox squirrels, protected by farmers, shot out and reduced to three; turkeys shot.

In short, as we read the complaint, the Ramsey township area seems to be overrun with "wild" hunters, and what "wild" game as well as domestic animals and birds roam about, seem facing utter extinction.

Commissioner Gould has taken cognizance of the complaint of these Anoka county citizens and has ordered a hearing to be held at Anoka village on the afternoon of August 11th in accordance with the provisions of Section 108 of the game and fish laws to determine whether or not it is desirable in the public interest and for the purpose of conserving game birds a permanent closed season for the taking of game birds shall be put into effect in the township of Ramsey, Anoka county.

An outsider would also desire a "closed season" on cows, heifers, horses, tame ducks, turkeys, chickens, etc.

GENE TUNNEY is no spectacular fighter. We saw him pound his trip hammer blows to the body of Madden when they fought for Captain Billy Fawcett. After a siege of body punches, Tunney rapped one more to the body and one to Madden's chin and that gentleman turned on his heel like a dying rooster and kissed the canvas. It is said that Tunney finished him off so quickly because he had to catch a train for New York.

SOME of the doctors are dispensing "violet rays." This is just another name for artificial sunlight, and you can burn the same effect into the back of your neck and the rest of your body by going bathing and sitting out on the beach, exposed to all of Old Sol's fiery vigor. That's why children thrive so and plants too, when you let them have sunshine.

A BROOKLYN traffic court judge has ruled that a hearse is a "pleasure" vehicle. It's no joke to be dead and it is passe to joke about the dead. Whatever "pleasure" is gained in operating the hearse must all go to the driver. The passenger in the back seat can give no directions.

"SOME WILD NOTIONS I HAVE KNOWN"

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.
Pastor Simpson M. E. Church, Minneapolis

"WHEN IN ROME, DO AS THE ROMANS DO"

No law is so deadly as the law of fatal average. He who is content to be "as good as the rest" has ceased to grow. He has doomed himself to mediocrity.

Progress and redemption depend upon those who are better than the rest. Conformity is the easiest thing in the world. It requires nothing but the imitative instinct. Originality is the most difficult and dangerous. He who dares to be different and original is certain to be a Moses leading society out of wilderness or a martyr to his originality.

There is a desperate need in Rome for someone to assume the leadership of the Romans. Life's important prizes and places are reserved for those who are able to live among the Romans like Sons of God.

Cervantes lived in a day when Spanish literature was cursed by a mandarin and sentimental chivalry. For the period of a few years he wrote novels and plays according to the contemptible and silly standards of his time. Then his soul revolted and he wrote "Don Quixote," a book that transformed all the established literary formulae of the period and placed the name of its author among the first ten authors of all history.

Richard Wagner could have been a popular composer and received some important commissions from royalty in his generation if he had been willing to be bound by the operatic standards then current. Instead he preferred to blaze new trails, suffer calumny and humiliation and almost defeat, but in the end he became the father of the modern opera.

Rembrandt nearly starved while he was battling the artistic standards of his time, but no name stands higher in painting today than the Dutch artist who, living among artistic Romans, repudiated their standards and made his own.

N. Y. BOXING COMMISSION IN BACK FLOP

DEMPSEY-TUNNEY BOUT MAY BE PUT ON IN N. Y. CITY

TEX RICKARD RETURNS TO THE METROPOLIS AS A TRIUMPH-
ANT HERO

NO CRIME FOR HEAVYWEIGHT
CHAMPION AND HOME-BRED
TUNNEY TO FIGHT

New York, July 28.—(UP)—Winning a fight of more than 20 years to get a decision against the New York boxing commission, Tex Rickard with the bust of Chicago on his heels, returned to New York today. He left one fight in Chicago only to jump into another battle that must be won before he can stage his pet bout between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney in the Yankee stadium on September 16.

Rickard returned almost as a triumphant hero, after he had heard that the New York boxing commission had taken another one of its back flops and had decided that it would be no crime for the heavy-weight champion and the home bred Tunney to fight in New York.

The boxing commission voted its approval for a Dempsey-Tunney fight but Rickard's fight is not yet won. He yet has to use his ammunition against Colonel John J. Phelan, commander of the celebrated "Irish 69th Regiment" and chairman of the license committee and James A. Farley, political leader from Rockland county, and the personal friend of Governor Al Smith. Farley voted against the Dempsey-Tunney match.

According to the New York boxing law, the commission as an administrative body can act upon all cases pertaining to violation of the boxing law; it can say that smoking will not be permitted in Madison Square Garden; that fighters cannot wear flags as belts and that seconds must appear in the apparel of human beings.

But the commission itself cannot issue nor grant licenses to promoters, boxers, managers or seconds. It cannot declare boxers ineligible and it cannot reinstate boxers, who have been declared ineligible by the licensing committee.

Until a few weeks ago the license committee and the boxing commission worked in concert and harmony and then an issue arose where George Brower, an attorney, challenged the right of Colonel Phelan to vote with the commission.

Colonel Phelan withdrew and announced that in the future his license committee would act individually and as a unit.

And therein began the biggest fight that Rickard yet has faced.

The boxing commission voted yesterday that Dempsey and Tunney could fight in the Yankee stadium on September 16.

But Dempsey has not a license and Tunney has not a license.

To get the licenses, without which they cannot enter the gates in any boxing arena in New York state, they will have to plead their case before Colonel Phelan's committee.

DEMPSEY PREPARED TO REPORT TO NEW YORK

Colorado Springs, Col., July 28.—Jack Dempsey is prepared to report to New York within 10 days and start training for his bout with Gene Tunney, he announced today.

"It certainly is great that the commission (New York boxing commission) has agreed to this fight. I would much prefer to have the bout in New York," Dempsey said. "Of course, I was playing with Tex Rickard. If he had wanted to have the fight in Chicago, it was O. K. with me," the champion declared.

LEGG CAPTURES BEMIDJI GOLF TOURNAMENT

Bemidji, Minn., July 28.—Shooting a beautiful brand of golf that came within a point of tying the newly established course record, Harry Legg of Minneapolis defeated Sewell Wilson of Bemidji in the finals of the championship flight of the Birchmont international golf tournament.

Legg shot a 72, with five birdies in the 18 holes. The course record had been established in the morning by Sullivan, Grand Forks club professional, who set a mark of 71. George Folds of Chicago was the winner of the finals of the first flight with A. D. Hamilton of Leavenworth, Kan., the runnerup.

In the contest among professionals who shot 72 holes, Sullivan of Grand Forks won with 297. Jock Melville of Grand Rapids had 311; Dahlman of Bemidji 313, and Anderson of Hibbing, 318.

Ideal weather marked the tourney with a large gallery from the summer colony here following the play.

JARBO EFFECTIVE IN PINCHES,
HAS BRILLIANT SUPPORT
AT TIMES

THREE DOUBLES OFF ENGBRET-
SON IN FIFTH SPELL DEFEAT
FOR Y. M. C. A.

Game Thursday—B.A.C. vs. N.E.
Game Friday—Y.M.C.A. vs. Seals

In one of the best games of the city league to date, the N. E. team nosed out the Y. M. C. A. last night by a score of 3 to 2. Three two-base hits off Engbretson in the fifth inning gave the Northeast men the runs needed to win.

The Y. M. C. A. had men on the bases in every inning, but didn't have the needed punch to push the runs over the home base.

Two names are worthy of high mention for their good work in last night's game. Jarbo, pitching his second game for the winners, was touched for seven hits, but was stingy with blows when a hit meant a run. He was particularly effective in the pinches, getting nine Y men by the whiff route.

Alongside of Jarbo's name must go that of Howard, left fielder, who took two almost impossible fly balls that came into his territory. On Orth's hard drive into the swamp, Howard backed into the mesh to make the catch, and on Shello's long fly into the side hills, Howard tramped over the broken ground to drag it in, stumbling as he made the catch, but retaining the ball.

The game was scoreless for the first three innings, but in the first half of the fourth, Kaufman singled, went to second when Elling was safe on error, and both advanced when Dillan overthrew second base. Schwendeman sent a fly to left field, Kaufman counting after the catch for the first run. Jarbo tapped to Engbretson, who threw to Hanson for the out, and Hanson relayed it back to Dillan to catch Elling coming home.

The Y evened the count in their half of the fourth, when Sandgren was hit by a pitched ball, and came all the way home on Anderson's long double over Kaufman's head. In the fifth, A. Swanson started things rolling with a double into the left field swamp, and went to third on Bollen's error of the throw in. H. Swanson followed with another double, scoring A. Swanson, and went to third on an error. Howard's double scored him for the third run of the game.

In the sixth, Ericsson reached first on error, stole second, came to third on Engbretson's hit to short right, and scored on Bollen's infield out. The Y. M. C. A. made a valiant effort to even the score in the seventh, when with one gone, Dillan singled

New York, July 28.—Form shown by young foreign athletes in the big French and English tennis and golf championships brought witnesses back with a distinct warning to America: "Look out and get busy!"

The long continuation of successes that have been scored since the war by American athletes in international competitions and the possession of such stars as Bobby Jones, Bill Tilden, Bill Johnston, Vinnie Richards, Helen Wills and Glenna Collett have caused American athletics to doze into a trance of false security.

With the exception of Bobby Jones, who need fear no golf player in the world as long as he maintains his present game, the United States hasn't a single outstanding athlete in these sports who is not in acute danger of a foreign rival.

Frequent mention has been made recently of the strength of the French Davis Cup team. Rene Lacoste, Jean Borotra, Henri Cochet, Paul Feret and Jacques Brugnon are not only a team that will be a decided threat for the cup but they are individuals, the first three of which have a game at present good enough to beat Tilden if he proves this season not to be the super-player of two years ago.

Borotra apparently has recovered from an injured back he suffered during the winter as there was no indication of physical disability in his match against Howard Kinsey when he won the Wimbledon tennis title.

There is no disposition to predict that the men's national championship at Germantown will be a three-out-of-four French affair as it was at Wimbledon and in Paris. The draw will have much to say about that. If those four or five Frenchmen should be scattered around in the four sections, however, it will take all the best tennis of Tilden, Johnston and Richards to subdue them.

Helen Wills, who until this season, was looked upon as the only rival of Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen and a sure world's champion of the future has others on her hands now.

Senorita d'Alvarez, the Spanish champion and Mlle. Katinka Bouman, the Holland champion, who may be seen at Forest Hills are two prospects just as good as the American champion was two years ago. They haven't quite as much pace and experience as Miss Wills but they have more strokes, better execution and much more speed.

The effects of the operation she was forced to undergo in Paris may handicap Miss Wills but on the other hand she may be a better player as she had been handicapped for a long time before the operation with a feeling of fatigue she couldn't diagnose.

Another star athlete in France, who is certain to be much in prominence in a short time is Mlle. Thione de la Chaume, the seventeen years old girl who won the French golf championship by beating Miss Cecil Leitch, who later won the British championship.

Miss Mary K. Browne, who is equally competent as a critic of tennis and golf saw the French girl in the championship and enthused about her.

"She is one of the finest prospects I have ever seen," Miss Browne said. "Her form is perfect and her game is sound. All she needs is more strength for distance and more tournament experience and she ought to be a champion."

England also has two great youngsters coming along in tennis, Miss Betty Nuthall, a fifteen year old girl and H. W. Austin, a young Cambridge student, eighteen years old.

Miss Nuthall is a pretty little miss, who has not fallen for the boyish bob and who wears long tresses hanging down her shoulders, somewhat mindful of the Helen Wills of the "pig-tail" days. She has the handicap of the underhand service, so popular with many British women but some of the older girls are training her to use the overhand.

Young Austin is a brother of the former Miss Joan Austin, who married Randolph Lycett, one of the veteran British Davis Cup stars and he has learned a lot from his brother-in-law. He is a most promising youngster with a game that is very much American in style and aggressiveness.

The Olympic games are coming on in two years and foreign critics are not bashful in predicting that the United States is going to be beaten in Amsterdam. Foreign nations are talking seriously about and making plans for the next games but apparently the American officials believe that all that will be necessary will be to get the boys on some kind of a boat, send them over and let them knock over the foreigners.

past third, stole second, reached third on Skiba's error of Orth's grounder, but was caught at the plate on an attempted steal.

Both pitchers were effective. Except for a short time in the fifth inning, when he grooved the ball for three doubles, Engbretson was in good form. He settled down to hard work after that, and was invincible. His support was ragged at times, eight errors contributing to the defeat.

Easthampton, N. Y., July 28.—Less than eight weeks ago Helen Wills, the American national tennis champion, was in the American hospital in Paris recovering from an operation for appendicitis.

Dr. Thierry De Martell, a celebrated athlete in his college days and the foremost surgeon in Europe, told her after he had finished the operation: "You are the finest physical specimen of young womanhood I have ever seen. Within 10 days you will be out of bed and within a few weeks you can play tennis."

Her mother, the wife of a California surgeon, doubted it. Miss Mary K. Browne, captain of the American team of which the young champion was a member, urged against it.

Today found Helen Wills here to compete in the invitation tournament at the Maidstone club, a tournament which, she said a few days ago, will "give me some real competition to determine if I am completely recovered."

She will find some real competition here, even if it is friendly, from Miss Mary K. Browne, Mrs. Molla Mallory, Miss Elizabeth Ryan and other celebrities of the American court.

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's Hero—Slim Harris, Boston Red Sox pitcher, who shut out Ty Cobb's Detroit team, 7 to 0 and allowed five well scattered hits.

St. Louis Cardinals hit the ball high, wide and handsome and backed up the veteran Grover Alexander successfully to grab the Phillies 9 to 5.

Brooklyn split a double bill with the Cincinnati Reds, the Robins with Bob McGraw pitching taking the first 6 to 3 and Cincinnati with Carl Mays on the mound winning the second 2 to 0.

A single run in the ninth inning on a left field drive by Andy High scored Bancroft and gave the Boston Braves a win over Chicago's Cubs 1 to 0.

Pittsburgh's Pirates put over the winning run in the ninth to win from the New York Giants 4 to 3. Kremer came to the relief of Songer in the ninth, after the Giants had staged a rally, scoring three runs and the tying run on base.

Walter Johnson, veteran Senator, defeated Thomas, rookie pitcher of the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 2.

Rain prevented the Athletics from performing in Cleveland.

In a home run orgy, Babe Ruth smashed out his 31st circuit drive of the season, his teammate Combs smacked another and the Yankees won from the St. Louis Browns 6 to 5 despite Rice and McManus of the Browns hitting homers.

Determined to hold the scant one-half game margin, that now allows them to rest in first place, the Colonels of Louisville prepared today to hold off the rushes of the Milwaukee Brewers in the first of a four game series that may have much to do with deciding this year's race.

Having wrested the lead from the Brewers during the past few days the Colonels now enjoy the privilege of meeting their strongest challengers on the home lot.

The first game of the series promised to be a pitchers' battle between "No Hit" Charley Robertson, undefeated in the league so far this year, and Nick Cullop, the grizzled veteran.

In the only game played in the league yesterday Indianapolis took an 8 to 5 encounter from St. Paul.

N. Y. BOXING COMMISSION IN BACK FLOP

DEMPSEY-TUNNEY BOUT MAY BE PUT ON IN N. Y. CITY

TEX RICKARD RETURNS TO THE METROPOLIS AS A TRIUMPHANT HERO

NO CRIME FOR HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION AND HOME-BRED TUNNEY TO FIGHT

New York, July 28.—(UP)—Winning a fight of more than 20 years to get a decision against the New York boxing commission, Tex Rickard with the bust of Chicago on his heels, returned to New York today. He left one fight in Chicago only to jump into another battle that must be won before he can stage his pet bout between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney in the Yankee stadium on September 16.

Rickard returned almost as a triumphant hero, after he had heard that the New York boxing commission had taken another one of its back flops and had decided that it would be no crime for the heavy-weight champion and the home bred Tunney to fight in New York.

The boxing commission voted its approval for a Dempsey-Tunney fight but Rickard's fight is not yet won. He yet has to use his ammunition against Colonel John J. Phelan, commander of the celebrated "Irish 69th Regiment" and chairman of the license committee and James A. Farley, political leader from Rockland county, and the personal friend of Governor Al Smith. Farley voted against the Dempsey-Tunney match.

According to the New York boxing law, the commission as an administrative body can act upon all cases pertaining to violation of the boxing law; it can say that smoking will not be permitted in Madison Square Garden; that fighters cannot wear flags as belts and that seconds must appear in the apparel of human beings.

But the commission itself cannot issue nor grant licenses to promoters, boxers, managers or seconds. It cannot declare boxers ineligible and it cannot reinstate boxers, who have been declared ineligible by the licensing committee.

Until a few weeks ago the license committee and the boxing commission worked in concert and harmony and then an issue arose where George Brower, an attorney, challenged the right of Colonel Phelan to vote with the commission.

Colonel Phelan withdrew and announced that in the future his license committee would act individually and as a unit.

And therein began the biggest fight that Rickard yet has faced.

The boxing commission voted yesterday that Dempsey and Tunney could fight in the Yankee stadium on September 16.

But Dempsey has not a license and Tunney has not a license.

To get the licenses, without which they cannot enter the gates in any boxing arena in New York state, they will have to plead their case before Colonel Phelan's committee.

DEMPSEY PREPARED TO REPORT TO NEW YORK

Colorado Springs, Col., July 28.—Jack Dempsey is prepared to report to New York within 10 days and start training for his bout with Gene Tunney, he announced today.

"It certainly is great that the commission (New York boxing commission) has agreed to this fight. I would much prefer to have the bout in New York," Dempsey said. "Of course, I was playing with Tex Rickard. If he had wanted to have the fight in Chicago, it was O. K. with me," the champion declared.

LEGG CAPTURES BEMIDJI GOLF TOURNAMENT

Bemidji, Minn., July 28.—Shooting a beautiful brand of golf that came within a point of tying the newly established course record, Harry Legg of Minneapolis defeated Sewell Wilson of Bemidji in the finals of the championship flight of the Birchmont international golf tournament.

Legg shot a 72, with five birdies in the 18 holes. The course record had been established in the morning by Sullivan, Grand Forks club professional, who set a mark of 71. George Folds of Chicago was the winner of the finals of the first flight with A. D. Hamilton of Leavenworth, Kan., the runnerup.

In the contest among professionals who shot 72 holes, Sullivan of Grand Forks won with 297. Jock Melville of Grand Rapids had 311; Dahlman of Bemidji 313, and Anderson of Hibbing, 318.

Ideal weather marked the tourney with a large gallery from the summer colony here following the play.

N. E. NOSES OUT Y. M. C. A. IN TIGHT BATTLE, 3 TO 2

JARBO EFFECTIVE IN PINCHES,

THREE DOUBLES OFF ENGBRETSON
IN FIFTH SPELL DEFEAT
FOR Y. M. C. A.

Game Thursday—B.A.C. vs. N.E.
Game Friday—Y.M.C.A. vs. Seals

In one of the best games of the city league to date, the N. E. team nosed out the Y. M. C. A. last night by a score of 3 to 2. Three two-base hits off Engbretson in the fifth inning gave the Northeast men the runs needed to win.

The Y. M. C. A. had men on the bases in every inning, but didn't have the needed punch to push the runs over the home base.

Two names are worthy of high mention for their good work in last night's game. Jarbo, pitching his second game for the winners, was touched for seven hits, but was stingy with blows when a hit meant a run. He was particularly effective in the pinches, getting nine Y men by the whiff route.

Alongside of Jarbo's name must go that of Howard, left fielder, who took two almost impossible fly balls that came into his territory. On Orth's hard drive into the swamp, Howard backed into the mush to make the catch, and on Shello's long foul fly into the side hills, Howard tramped over the broken ground to drag it in, stumbling as he made the catch, but retaining the ball.

The game was scoreless for the first three innings, but in the first half of the fourth, Kaufman singled, went to second when Elling was safe on error, and both advanced when Dillan overthrew second base. Schwindeman sent a fly to left field, Kaufman counting after the catch for the first run. Jarbo tapped to Engbretson, who threw to Hanson for the out, and Hanson relayed it back to Dillan to catch Elling coming home.

The Y evened the count in their half of the fourth, when Sandgren was hit by a pitched ball, and came all the way home on Anderson's long double over Kaufman's head. In the fifth, A. Swanson started things rolling with a double into the left field swamp, and went to third on Bollen's error of the throw in. H. Swanson followed with another double, scoring A. Swanson, and went to third on an error. Howard's double scored him for the third run of the game.

In the sixth, Ericsson reached first on error, stole second, came to third on Engbretson's hit to short right, and scored on Bollen's infield out. The Y. M. C. A. made a valiant effort to even the score in the seventh, when with one gone, Dillan singled

FIGHTS TEACHING OF EVOLUTION

Dr. W. B. Riley, Pastor of 1st Baptist Church, Minneapolis, Speaks in City

CROWD AT GREGORY PARK

In Thrilling Address he Combats Teaching of Evolution in Schools of State

Dr. W. B. Riley, pastor of the First Baptist church, Minneapolis, renowned lecturer who has studied the vast and puzzling topic of evolution for the last 40 years, last night in a stirring address to the people of Brainerd in Gregory park, charged every professor and teacher in schools, colleges, and universities teaching the stages of man by the evolution theory with pulling a "hoax" on the student generation and teaching a subject which they know little of and which they cannot substantiate with facts.

In a thrilling address he fought the teaching of evolution in the schools of the state which he stated was being forced on the students from the time when they were six years old and in many cases university students were deliberately prevented from graduating because they refused to uphold the evolution theory.

Dr. Riley said he would fight the teaching of the evolution theory by text book in the schools of the state with the very last breath from his body. He charged that the teaching of the evolution theory results in the destruction of the Christian faith of the children.

He challenged the upholders of the evolution theory to prove one instance in the ages of time where an evolution process took place. He stated that nature not only resented it but abhorred it and that man as created in the image of God was at the present time deteriorating in stature and wisdom from the first man God placed in the Garden of Eden, rather than growing in stature and wisdom.

"I assert," said Dr. Riley "and stand ready to prove it when it is disputed, that the rocks of the earth hold not one single species that ever clearly evolved into another. A true scientist, Joseph LaConte, voiced what the best geologists admit, namely: 'The evidence of geology today is that species seem to come into existence suddenly and in full perfection; remain substantially unchanged during the term of their existence, and pass away in full perfection; other species take their places apparently by substitution, not by transmutation'."

"Or if you prefer the language of J. C. Willis, of Cambridge, 'Evolution did not proceed from individual to variety, from variety to species, from species to genus, and from genus to family; but inversely, the great families and genera appearing at a very early period, and subsequently breaking up into other genera and species.' It is my profound conviction that Genesis and geology are wondrously together in their enumeration of life orders.

"But, I said, the face of the earth is set like flint against it. Unlike my opponents, I shall not rest in assertions, however oft repeated, but proceed immediately to proofs. For six thousand years, at least, and in the judgment of my opponents, somewhere from one hundred thousand to two million years, man has been a keen observer upon the facts of nature, and in that whole time he has never seen one species evolved into another. Goaded by the most desperate desire to prove this atheistic hypothesis, the entire school of evolutionists have yet lacked the hardihood to claim that such an observation has been made by man. They know concerning the vegetable world that Hunter in his Civic Biology states, namely, that the vegetable hybrids can be produced between species of close kin, even these do not reproduce themselves sexually but by grafting, budding, etc. They know that while the ass and the horse have a kinship close enough to be crossed, the product, a mule, balks the whole evolution theory by his stubborn sterility—a sterility born, not by the will of the flesh, nor of the will of the mule, but of God.

"The illustrations they would have us accept of this false philosophy are found only in dead forms—forms that have slept, according to my opponents, for millions and even billions of years. These they resurrect and by a new ventriloquism, made to talk again and tell strange weird stories, namely, a little five toed rat like animal stands in the museum and is taught by the modern evolutionists to say to all passersby, 'I was a horse.' In appearance, he has not anything like the kinship to a horse that a jack rabbit has to jackass, but of course, the jackass is alive and refuses to claim the jackrabbit as his ancestor; and the jackrabbit is alive and he resents the insinuation of any kinship. You can put what you like into the mouth of the dead. It can't help itself. But with the living it is different. And mark you, his kinship between that cohippus and the modern percheron is maintained in spite of all the scientific data to the contrary, and there are many. For instance, the little rat like animal that is made to say he was a horse, lies underneath the soil of America and was buried, in the judgments of my opponents, something like 'ten millions of years ago.' Yet they admit that when the Spaniards reached America a few centuries ago, 'there was not a horse on the entire continent.' What had happened? All the horses of America discovered there was a passable bridge that does not now exist, from America to Europe, and the most of them took it into their heads to see what foraging they could find on the other side of the world and so Joseph McCabe said, 'the horse crossed the bridge.' But fearing lest some colt or two should be as stubborn in transmigration as McCabe himself is in religion, and stay behind, he

Dr. W. B. Riley, Pastor of 1st Baptist Church, Minneapolis, Speaks in City

CROWD AT GREGORY PARK

In Thrilling Address he Combats Teaching of Evolution in Schools of State

Dr. W. B. Riley, pastor of the First Baptist church, Minneapolis, renowned lecturer who has studied the vast and puzzling topic of evolution for the last 40 years, last night in a stirring address to the people of Brainerd in Gregory park, charged every professor and teacher in schools, colleges, and universities teaching the stages of man by the evolution theory with pulling a "hoax" on the student generation and teaching a subject which they know little of and which they cannot substantiate with facts.

In a thrilling address he fought the teaching of evolution in the schools of the state which he stated was being forced on the students from the time when they were six years old and in many cases university students were deliberately prevented from graduating because they refused to uphold the evolution theory.

Dr. Riley said he would fight the teaching of the evolution theory by text book in the schools of the state with the very last breath from his body. He charged that the teaching of the evolution theory results in the destruction of the Christian faith of the children.

He challenged the upholders of the evolution theory to prove one instance in the ages of time where an evolution process took place. He stated that nature not only resented it but abhorred it and that man as created in the image of God was at the present time deteriorating in stature and wisdom from the first man God placed in the Garden of Eden, rather than growing in stature and wisdom.

"I assert," said Dr. Riley "and stand ready to prove it when it is disputed, that the rocks of the earth hold not one single species that ever clearly evolved into another. A true scientist, Joseph LaConte, voiced what the best geologists admit, namely: 'The evidence of geology today is that species seem to come into existence suddenly and in full perfection; remain substantially unchanged during the term of their existence, and pass away in full perfection; other species take their places apparently by substitution, not by transmutation'."

"Or if you prefer the language of J. C. Willis, of Cambridge, 'Evolution did not proceed from individual to variety, from variety to species, from species to genus, and from genus to family; but inversely, the great families and genera appearing at a very early period, and subsequently breaking up into other genera and species.' It is my profound conviction that Genesis and geology are wondrously together in their enumeration of life orders.

W. H. Triplett

Little Visits Around the Rural Section

Written especially for the Dispatch by W. H. Triplett, travelling editor for this paper and The Farmer of St. Paul.

Almost every farmer called on this morning was out in the field making the binder hum and within a few weeks our entire small grain crop will be standing in the shock. I examined some of the grain and found it filled out very good. The yield without a doubt will average between 40-50 bushels per acre. Of course the entire small grain crop will not average this throughout the county as there are places in the sandy sections that the grain is some what thin.

I was somewhat disappointed when I called at Leonard Swanson's to find him away from home as he is one of our ex-service men, who is trying to improve the community by raising purebred chicks, having over 600 little ones at present and he plans on having over 700 laying hens for the winter. He also has several colonies of bees that bring him in an additional income.

George McKay and wife left this morning for Wadena and plan on returning this evening, so I did not get to visit them; but their daughter Mabel informed me that they formerly lived in the southern part of Minnesota coming to Crow Wing county six years ago. General farming is practised and nine cows are milked.

Roy Larson was busy repairing fence this morning when I called, which is a job most farmers dislike doing. Speaking from experience I would rather plow corn all day than fix fence an hour. Mr. Larson formerly worked in the shops at Brainerd; last year he got the "go West" fever, rented his farm and went to Seattle, Wash., where he worked at the plastering trade. He admits that Minnesota has some cold, snappy days but he prefers them to the damp, cloudy days they have out west. Mrs. Larson remarked that Crow Wing county has just as many beautiful spots as one can see in Washington. Mr. Larson plans on making dairying his major enterprise; having been in that business before, he knows what can be accomplished.

I failed to find any one around at

STOCKS IN AGGRESSIVE MOOD

New York, July 28.—(UP)—Stocks moved ahead aggressively today under the stimulating influence of the noteworthy earnings statement submitted for the initial half of the year by General Motors and United States Steel. Rail shares were also given impetus by the satisfactory outcome of the first six months operation with the result that the market moved in an atmosphere of buoyancy practically throughout the session.

General Motors held the position it had held for several weeks at the head of the forward movement.

American Can also held the highest price on record selling at price which was equivalent at 366 for the old stock.

The market closed higher.

Biggest Colleges in U. S. Represented in M-G-M's "Brown of Harvard"

Dozens of the most important colleges in the United States and one English university are represented in the production of "Brown of Harvard" the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, which is coming to the Lyceum Theatre on Thursday.

First of all, of course, there is Harvard. Many of the scenes of the picture were taken in and about Cambridge, Mass., and shots of the 1926 football game between Harvard and Yale have been incorporated in the released version.

S. Harmon's and William Durum's places, but will call again.

Some 40 years ago when the land was covered with heavy timber and the low spots filled with water, John Sandgren started clearing 120 acres that he bought at that time. He remarked that the good roads have been the important factor in developing and improving the community. A purebred Holstein sire has been used for the last 15 years which means that he has a very highgrade Holstein herd.

C. W. Barr had left for Brainerd a few minutes before I called, so I did not get to visit him as I would like to have done. His mother from St. Cloud and his sister who has been teaching in Washington the past year, came this afternoon to make them an extended visit. Mr. Barr has farmed 320 acres for five years and I must give him credit for what he has accomplished; Mrs. Barr has about the best flock of White Rock chickens that I have seen in the county. This breed of chickens are not only good layers but also bring a good price on the market; not only that but they also brought Mrs. Barr first premium at poultry shows. I suggest that not only Mrs. Barr but others show their birds at the Crow Wing county fair which will be held the latter part of August.

R. B. Thompson has worked as a contractor for 24 years and has lived on the farm belonging to the Thompson estate for the last 20 years. Mrs. Thompson is clerk of District No. 23 school which requires much of her time which is well taken up with her housework and caring for the family of seven children. The Daughters of the Soil held their semi-monthly meeting at the Thompson home last Monday evening at which time they made plans for their outing trip at Clearwater Lake the second week in August.

Gust Juline is farming 40 acres that was nothing but brush and water 24 years ago when he came on the place. They formerly lived in Iowa where Mr. Juline worked on the railroad.

Little Visits

Around the Rural Section

Written especially for the Dispatch by W. H. Triplett, travelling editor for this paper and The Farmer of St. Paul.

Almost every farmer called on this morning was out in the field making the binder hum and within a few weeks our entire small grain crop will be standing in the shock. I examined some of the grain and found it filled out very good. The yield without a doubt will average between 40-50 bushels per acre. Of course the entire small grain crop will not average this throughout the county as there are places in the sandy sections that the grain is some what thin.

I was somewhat disappointed when I called at Leonard Swanson's to find him away from home as he is one of our ex-service men, who is trying to improve the community by raising purebred chicks, having over 600 little ones at present and he plans on having over 700 laying hens for the winter. He also has several colonies of bees that bring him in an additional income.

George McKay and wife left this morning for Wadena and plan on returning this evening, so I did not get to visit them; but their daughter Mabel informed me that they formerly lived in the southern part of Minnesota coming to Crow Wing county six years ago. General farming is practised and nine cows are milked.

Roy Larson was busy repairing fence this morning when I called, which is a job most farmers dislike doing. Speaking from experience I would rather plow corn all day than fix fence an hour. Mr. Larson formerly worked in the shops at Brainerd; last year he got the "go West" fever, rented his farm and went to Seattle, Wash., where he worked at the plastering trade. He admits that Minnesota has some cold, snappy days but he prefers them to the damp, cloudy days they have out west. Mrs. Larson remarked that Crow Wing county has just as many beautiful spots as one can see in Washington. Mr. Larson plans on making dairying his major enterprise; having been in that business before, he knows what can be accomplished. I failed to find any one around at

S. Harmon's and William Durum's places, but will call again. Some 40 years ago when the land was covered with heavy timber and the low spots filled with water, John Sandgren started clearing 120 acres that he bought at that time. He remarked that the good roads have been the important factor in developing and improving the community. A purebred Holstein sire has been used for the last 15 years which means that he has a very high grade Holstein herd.

C. W. Barr had left for Brainerd a few minutes before I called, so I did not get to visit him as I would like to have done. His mother from St. Cloud and his sister who has been teaching in Washington the past year, came this afternoon to make them an extended visit. Sea Scouts on Cruise

The Sea Scouts called by long distance this morning from the county highway bridge on the Mississippi north of Crosby, having arrived there O. K. at 6 o'clock Tuesday night. They had a hard row, they claim, all day as the current and the wind were both against them. After making two rapids with hard rowing they finally came to a straight stretch with the bridge ahead, the thing they had been working for.

Mr. Newton says the boys are all in A No. 1 health, having mighty fine weather and having a good time. The boys all send their regards to their folks. The log has been written up giving a detailed account of the entire trip and is ready this morning.

Wine Barnes by reason of his fine work on the cruise and the qualities of leadership he has shown has been elected captain of the crew. Because of the fact that the rapids are getting so hard to make and the current so strong otherwise, they will not try to go any farther. Had the wind been in a more favorable direction this morning the boys would have gone on to Aitkin.
